

Prince International acquires chemical company

---

Thursday, 5 January 2017 (2 weeks ago) by Emilio Demetriou-Jones

The New York office of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP and Mexican firm Von Wobeser y Sierra SC have helped the parent company of raw material producer Prince International acquire Erachem Manganese Chemicals from French mining and metallurgical company Eramet Group, in a deal worth US$170 million.

Counsel to Erachem Manganese Chemicals could not be confirmed prior to publication.

Erachem operates five processing plants in the United States, Belgium, China and Mexico.

The deal was announced on 9 December.

Counsel to Prince International Corporation

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP

Partners Neil Goldman, Gaines Gwathmey, Monica Thurman and Brad Okun in New York

Von Wobeser y Sierra SC

Partners Rodolfo Trampe, Andres Nieto and Edmond Grieger and associate Alberto Córdoba in Mexico City

Comments

There are currently no comments.