
Von Wobeser y Sierra new partner announcements for 2018

January 22nd, 2018.

Dear clients and friends;

Von Wobeser y Sierra is pleased to announce Montserrat Manzano and Pablo Saez as its newest partners of the Firm. The promotion of both Montserrat and Pablo reflect the continuous organic growth that the firm has had in its various practice areas during the years.

Montserrat Manzano has been part of Von Wobeser since 2001. As partner, she will strengthen the International Arbitration Practice of the firm. She has 15 years of experience in Dispute Resolution. Montserrat has participated in more than 50 arbitration proceedings either as secretary or counsel, under ICC, ICDR, UNCITRAL and ICSID rules and has advised leading multinational companies and international governments in complex and high-value cases. Furthermore, she has also sat as arbitrator in contract related disputes and has expertise across a variety of sectors including public-works contracts (construction, shipping, energy as well as oil and gas, chemical among other industries). Her work is truly international, having worked in Paris at one of the most recognized international arbitration and public law practices worldwide and holds an LLM from Lucy Cavendish College, University of Cambridge.

Pablo Saez has been part of Von Wobeser since 2006. He will be heading the Real Estate Practice and will also be a key partner in the Corporate/M&A, Antitrust practices of Von Wobeser y Sierra. He has more than 15 years of experience advising multinational clients including several on the Fortune 500 list. Pablo has thorough experience regarding complicated mergers and acquisitions, divestitures and joint ventures that have a solid real estate component. Furthermore, he has been involved in substantial projects that represent an important investment for Mexico and Latin America (including property acquisition, financing, real estate development and the transformation of property from social or public regimes to private property). He also advises municipal and state governments in the acquisition of strategic real estate. He has international experience having worked at a leading firm in New York and having had studied at NYU and UC Berkeley.

Kindest regards,

Von Wobeser y Sierra, S.C.
